“Fully implementing pensionsync has been a key part of our GDPR program”

With Automatic Enrolment (AE), RTI and another 150+ pieces of legislation affecting payroll, never has payroll outsourcing been more relevant.

Blackburn-based, Pierce Chartered Accountants has a busy payroll team helping a wide variety of employers remain compliant. To achieve this, Pierce places great store in expertise and has a CIPP qualified payroll team of 7.

Payroll Manager, Lisa Kennery said: “Our payroll service is designed to be simple, scalable and permanently serviced by a bureau of staff. This means that it flexes in line with business growth, contraction and seasonal peaks.

“Working in a fast paced environment requires us to be flexible and open to change. We see ourselves as a forward thinking bureau who continue to evolve with demands of payroll and surrounding functions.

“We continually review our internal processes, but with a growing client base, AE, the forthcoming General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) etc we were spurred on to streamline our “processes even further and take advantage of the latest available technologies.

“Implementing pensionsync has increased our efficiency and effectiveness, reducing our time spent processing AE by up to 50% per client. This has freed up my team’s time to apply their skills and focus on more complex cases and the ever-changing payroll landscape.

“GDPR requires us to reduce the element of risk and tighten security even more. We had a final push to fully integrate pensionsync as part of our GDPR program, as removing CSV files and introducing no touch, encrypted data submissions keeps our clients’ data safe.”

Payroll administrator, Philip Johnson added: “IRIS Payroll Professional and pensionsync combine to offer a fully integrated service that is simple and user friendly: both having fantastic support networks available.

If you are thinking of implementing pensionsync within IRIS Payroll Professional we would highly recommend doing so.”
